

Taus were much in the spotlight at Indiana State University's Rankin Distinguished Senior Awards Banquet in the spring. Left to right are: ISU Dir. of Alumni Affairs John Newton '69, who was master of ceremonies; Dan Thiel, one of two men named Distinguished Seniors; Bob Gibbons, an award finalist; and ISU President Richard G. Landini, '76 Congress Co-Honor Initiate, who gave the keynote address and presented the awards.

Jacksonville State University

Eta Theta Chapter has adopted a membership education program to cover academics, Fraternity life, brotherhood, and helpful aids in everyday life. Topic areas include "Responsibility of Membership & Character Development" and "Leadership Development."

Johns Hopkins University

Taus did so well in running a volunteer tutorial project for neighborhood children that they were asked by Pre-Trial Intervention, a youth counseling service, to help tutor at its downtown Baltimore center.

Kansas, University of

The Alumni Golf Tournament was great fun for returning alumni of Gamma Mu Chapter, whose undergraduates raised more than $1,200 for the American Cancer Society by staging the Brett Petersen Memorial Boxing Tournament.

Kansas State University

Several Taus were K-State Goodwill Ambassadors, an elite position, while others were student senators.

Kansas State U. Taus looked to the sky for an unusual social service project. Planes landing at the Manhattan Municipal Airport were directed to the ATO "Plane Wash" where Brothers washed nine planes to raise $200 for the Big Lakes Development Center, a program for the handicapped.

Kearney State College

In the first semester, ATO pledges had the best fraternity G-PA and—paired with the initiates' runner-up showing—gave Zeta Upsilon Chapter the best overall G-PA of 2.915.

Kentucky, University of

Phi Beta Kappa members Steve Kamber, Doug Neagli, and Ron Spears are now graduate students at the U. of Louisville—Kamber and Spears in medicine and Neagli in law. Chapter Adviser Bob Blakeman has been inducted into the UK Greek Hall of Fame.

Lamar University

WM Mark Hargraves was Economics Assn. v.p. and Scholarship Chrm. Mike Marroquin was selected as a delegate to Leadership Lamar, the campus leadership conference.

Lehigh University

ATO presidents included Kevin Clayton of the senior class, Neal Colligan of the IFC, and Frank Sobyak of the IEE Society, plus a Tau tandem of Investment Club President Phil Hoffner and V.P. Robert Fioretti.

Louisiana State University

WM Rogers Schupp was Greek Week chairman and Eric Rigby was the IFC representative for the Muscular Dystrophy Marathon.

Louisiana Tech University

Academic standouts as members of three honor societies are: Steven Magee in Gamma Beta Phi, Lambda Sigma, and Pi Tau Sigma; and Tim Wallace in Gamma Tau Delta, Lambda Sigma, and Pi Epsilon Tau.

Maine-Orono, University of

Jeff Mills was president and Hank Snow, president pro tem, of the Student Senate; George Franz was president and Kurt Fischer, v.p., of the ROTC 20th Maine Honor Society; and Mark Butler was treasurer of both the Fraternity Board and the Jazz Ensemble.

Mankato State University

The Eta Delta officer corps is headed by WM Michael Verdoorn, WC William Dickson, and WKE Brian Burress.

Marietta College

Past WM John Cardillo is co-editor of The Marcolian, the campus newspaper. Roger Hevey last year was general mgr. of WMRT, the campus classical music/jazz/public affairs radio station.

Marshall University

When Michael Queen was elected student body president, he became the 4th ATO in five years to hold that post. In the Student Senate, WKE Robert Bennett has succeeded Kyle Adams as president.

Maryland, University of

Mike Canning was SGA president and Mark Mahone was Gate & Key v.p. Also Gate & Key members were Don Ball and Preston Havenstein.

Massachusetts Inst. of Technology

Social service projects included helping reconstruct the Jamaica Plain Food Distribution Co-op, staging a Halloween party for Special Olympics participants, and painting a Roxbury children's day care center.

Two Massachusetts Inst. of Technology Taus pause while stripping lath and plaster in a Cambridge house during January's Help Week—a cold task because there was no heat in the house. The entire Chapter—pledges and initiates—put in 300 hours for the Riverside/Cambridgeport Community Construction Corp., a non-profit corporation dependent upon volunteers to renovate old and abandoned houses for low income families.

Mercer University

Scott Snyder was treasurer of the Greek Council, which Tommy Cooler, Steve Jenkins, J. B. Slater, and Lee Waldstein served as Chapter representatives.

Miami, University of

Double-duty leaders included: Scott Batcheller, Order of Omega president and IFC treasurer; Mark Hendricks, College GOP v.p. and Pre-Legal Club treasurer; and Eric Spriggs, Supreme Court chief justice and Program Council films chairman.