

Chapter Reports

Iowa State University

ΓΤ, 2122 Lincoln Way, Ames, IA 50010

Veisha is billed as the nation's largest student-managed festival and ATO was prominent in the May '84 celebration. Paul Lynch was general co-chairman, Andy Long had the lead in the "Guys & Dolls" staging, and ATO teamed with AOP to win the parade's small float division for the second year in a row.

Jacksonville State University

HΘ, 312 N. Gayle St., Jacksonville, AL 36265

A 10-year-old girl is alive thanks to quick action by Eric Isbell and Jim Stump, who saw a pickup truck plunge into Wiess Lake. When the driver escaped but the young passenger remained trapped, the Taus jumped in to pry open the door and pull her to safety.

Johns Hopkins University

Ψ, 3000 N. Calvert St., Baltimore, MD 21218

Assisting others is a way of life for Psi Chapter Taus, including Tim Reber who was Orientation social co-chairman with Steve Hatem and a peer counselor with Josh Krumholz, a City Jail Tutorial Program participant.

Kansas, University of

ΓΜ, 1537 Tennessee, Lawrence, KS 66044

LeaderShape is spelled Dave Beuerlein, a University Scholar carrying a 3.65 G-PA into his aerospace engineering senior year. Past ATO WC and Scholarship Chairman, he is ΣΤΤ president, TBII secretary, and campus Catholic Church lay reader and Finance Committeeman.

Kansas State University

ΔΘ, 1632 McCain Ave., Manhattan, KS 66502

ATO's Outstanding Pledge, Jeff Dillon went up from there before graduating with a 3.15 G-PA: PRO, KSU Ambassador, Agricultural Ambassadors president, Ag Econ Club treasurer, Red Cross and Big Brother /Big Sister volunteer, Chamber of Commerce student representative—and that's less than half of it!

Kearney State College

ZΤ, 2221 7th Ave., Kearney, NE 68847

Tim Carman was campus newspaper asst. editor and Jim Hungerford was IFC rush chairman.

Kentucky, University of

ΜΙ, 340 Clifton Ave., Lexington, KY 40508

Showing ATO as an excellent organization is the focus of Mu Iota's PR activity, combining campus and community involvement. An example of service (and TV coverage) was the door-to-door sale of U.K. Christmas ornaments to raise funds for handicapped student programs.

Lamar University

ZΘ, 4998 Cunningham, Beaumont, TX 77705

A toga theme and a good time for all characterized the ATO-Omega Psi Phi Mixer, the first Lamar mixer by generally white and black fraternity chapters.

Lehigh University

ΑΡ, Box F-3, Lehigh University, Bethlehem, PA 18015

Graduating but leaving examples of achievement were Membership Education Chrm. Kevin Clayton and WM Peter Demaria, both ΟΔΚ and Who's Who picks. Three-year president of the class of '84, Clayton was circulation mgr. and staff editor of National Mat News, a wrestling publication; Demaria was Student Activities Council treasurer and a self-employed landscaper.

Louisiana State University

EZ, P.O. Box FR, University Station, Baton Rouge, LA 70893

The Art Few Badge, an award honoring our Brother who died in Vietnam, was presented to Pat Unhock at Founders Day, which was well attended by alumni. Honored for his hard-working, courageous, and cheerful personality in the Few tradition, Unhock directed the membership education program to include more community service and a better organized Help Week.

Louisiana Tech University

ZX, 202 S. Bonner, Ruston, LA 71270

Pictured on The Ruston Daily Leader front page was ATO's late January Help Week project, raking leaves and cleaning grounds at the Lincoln Parish Museum.

Maine-Orono, University of

BΤ, College Ave., Orono, ME 04473

Alumni share credit for ATO's dramatic scholastic improvement, going from 15th to 3rd in just three semesters. The House Corporation constructed two study rooms in the house and awards scholarships to Brothers maintaining a 3.5 G-PA or recording a .5 improvement from one semester to the next.

Mankato State University

HΔ, 121 Clark St., Mankato, MN 56001

A neighborhood block party for homeowners and students was one of the PR projects of Eta Delta Chapter, seeking positive public awareness and acceptance.

Marietta College

BP, 515 Butler St., Marietta, OH 45750

Recipients of the Scholarship Bowl for the best fall semester fraternity G-PA, ATO was praised by the campus newspaper for its organization of a blood drive to benefit the Red Cross and Marietta Memorial Hospital.

Marshall University

ΘΟ, 1406 6th Ave., Huntington, WV 25701

The Student Alumni Assn. presented its first Leadership Award to junior Mike Queen, past student body president (with Michael Brison as v.p.) and present representative to the W.Va. Board of Regents' Advisory Council of Students and the MU Institutional Board of Advisors.

Maryland, University of

ΕΓ, 4611 College Ave., College Park, MD 20740

Epsilon Gamma counts among its alumni supporters Gerald F. Hurley '55, executive director of CONPOR (The Conference of Private Organizations), Washington, D.C., a nonprofit alliance working to preserve the constitutionally guaranteed right of freedom of association.

Massachusetts Inst. of Technology

BΓ, 405 Memorial Dr., Cambridge, MA 02138

MIT is a very competitive campus because of high admission standards and performance expectations. ATO has consistently been equal to the task and especially so in 1983-84 when WM Robert Schoenlein was the national winner of the TAC Award and the Chapter was selected for a True Merit Award. For more, see pages 12-15.

Good news for Gamma Nus at Minnesota was last year's leadership by WM Bob Siemering (left) and Membership Education Chrm. Mark Casey, shown receiving the Active of the Year Award. Casey introduced a new membership education program emphasis on responsible brotherhood and lifelong ATO commitment; Siemering keyed his Chapter administration to acquainting and encouraging Taus about leadership opportunities. Both were honored guests for their campus achievements at the University President's Student Leadership and Service Recognition Dinner. Graduating and joining IBM, Casey is continuing his ATO service as Minnesota Chapter Adviser.
